SOME MUSINGS FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR...

Call To Action

ACTION = Do Something!

The theme for this Spring Networker is a “Call to Action”. Matrix has been providing information and tools through our newsletters, websites, social media, trainings, etc., to all of you for the last 30+ years. We hope those have been useful and helpful to you. Now we are asking you to take that information—our tips and strategies—and take action—to do, to act. “But wait!” you might say. “I am already too busy, too stressed, too overwhelmed, and now you expect me to do more?” I hear you and understand. This issue will have a series of small but effective ways for you to “take action”.

As parents, we often feel immobilized and stuck, unsure what next step we should take to help our child be successful. We are overwhelmed by the sheer volume of information hurtling our way (what is reliable and what is not) and the constant juggling of priorities. These feelings are not unique to families. Professionals in this field also can relate. The simple suggestions that we feature in this issue can help. Though different, each is a call to action, a conscious effort that can make a difference. Get busy! I know you can.

FOR FAMILIES:

• THINK: Take a few minutes each day to think about the gifts your child brings you and the world. I know some days it will be hard to think about gifts when faced with all the challenges. Take action by trying.

• CONNECT: Find another family and connect. Build the parent network by sharing ideas and support.

• LEARN: Find who your policy makers are and how to connect with them.

• SHARE: Spread the word to family and friends about how Matrix helps you!

FOR PROFESSIONALS

• THINK: Take a few minutes each day to remember why you chose this field and what it means to you.

• CONNECT: Find other professionals who share your passion and build your network.

• LEARN: Rapid changes in the field can mean that continuing education is not only a career requirement, it builds your repertoire and capacity to be effective.

• SHARE: Spread the word about what a potential resource Matrix is to your colleagues.
CALL TO ACTION RESOURCES
Everyone has a voice. Let’s take action and spread the word about all our communities have to offer!

Tips On Taking Action For Families
• Find your local Special Education Advisory Committee. These committees are active in all localities.
• Visit our Matrix website to learn more at: http://www.matrixparents.org/information-topic/selpas-cacs/
• Attend meetings locally in Marin, Napa, Solano, and Sonoma Counties.
• Hear about new developments in your county that may affect your child.
• Speak about your concerns.
• Engage in parent-to-parent mentoring. The educational and emotional benefits that come from being a mentor (or mentee) are precious.
• Join a local parent support group where you can share experiences with others in our community.
• Be vocal and spread the word on the successes and challenges you find on your journey. The greater success we have in nurturing every kind of child in our community, the more we all benefit.
• Ask people you know for the support you need—whether it’s time, money, compassion, understanding, or empathy.
• Create awareness by sharing when you can. We all have something to give.

Tips On Taking Action For Professionals
• Tune in to your families and their needs. At times we forget what took us down this career path. Compassion is a wonderful gift to give.
• Stay up to date with workshops, trainings, and continuing education.
• Make referrals to other community organizations when needed. Sharing information with others in our community helps to support families.

CALL TO ACTION = ¡Hacer Algo! Llamar a la Acción
El tema de la red para este verano es una “llamada a la acción”. Matrix ha estado proporcionando información y herramientas a través de nuestros boletines de noticias, sitios web, redes sociales, cursos de formación, etc., a todos ustedes por los últimos 30 años y esperamos que esos hallan sido útiles y servicios para usted. Ahora le estamos pidiendo tomar esa información, nuestros consejos y estrategias, y tomar acción, de hacer, de actuar. “Pero espera!” Tu podrías decir. “Ya estoy demasiado ocupado, demasiado estresado, demasiado abrumado y se pregunta que haga más?” Te escuto y entiendo. Este problema tendrá una serie de pequeñas formas fáciles para “tomar acción”.

Como padres, a menudo nos sentimos inmovilizados y atorados, inseguros del próximo paso a tomar para ayudar a nuestro hijo a tener éxito. Estamos abrumados por la gran cantidad de información precipitándose en nuestro camino (lo que es fiable y lo que no es) y el mala-rbarismo constante de prioridades. Estos sentimientos no son exclusivos de las familias. Los profesionales de este campo también pueden relacionar. Las sugerencias simples que tenemos a disposición en este tema pueden ayudar. Aunque diferentes, cada una es una llamada a la acción, un esfuerzo de conciencia que puede hacer una diferencia. A trabajar, se que puede.

Nora Thompson, del Director Ejecutivo continúa en la página 5

Llamar a la acción
A veces parece que pasamos más de nuestro tiempo y energía simplemente absorbiendo y reaccionando a todas las presiones, estimulos y desafíos que la vida pone en nuestro regazo. Una gran parte de elevar cualquier familia es simplemente “mantener el ritmo”. Los que están criando, educando, o de otra manera apoyando a los niños con necesidades especiales saben que está orientado a la acción de un desafío particular. Los profesionales en el campo tienen un enorme impacto en la vida y el bienestar de nuestros hijos. Las acciones simples pueden ser poderosamente gratificantes para las familias de los niños y colegas.

Consejos Sobre Cómo Tomar Acción para las Familias
• Encuentre su Comité Asesor de Educación Especial local. Estos comités están activos en todas las localidades.
• Visite nuestro sitio Web Matrix para obtener más información en: http://www.matrixparents.org/information-topic/selpas-cacs/
• Asistir a las reuniones a nivel local en Marin, Napa, Solano, y Sonoma.
• Escuchar acerca de los nuevos desarrollos en su condado que pueden afectar a su hijo.
• Hablar acerca de sus preocupaciones.
• Participar en la tutoría de padres a padres. Los beneficios educativos y emocionales que vienen de ser un mentor (o aprendiz) son preciosos.
• Unirse a un grupo de apoyo local de padres donde se puede compartir experiencias con otros en nuestra comunidad.
• Ser vocal y difundir la palabra sobre los éxitos y desafíos que encuentre en su camino. El mayor éxito que tenemos en la consolidación de toda clase de niño en nuestra comunidad, más que todos se benefician.
• Pedir a la gente que conoce por el apoyo que necesita, si es el momento, el dinero, la compasión, la comprensión o la empatía.
• Crear conciencia a través de compartir cuando pueda. Todos tenemos algo que dar.

Consejos sobre la Toma de Decisiones Para profesionales
• Sintonizar sus familias y sus necesidades. A veces nos olvidamos de lo que nos llevó por este camino profesional. La compasión es un regalo maravilloso a dar.
• Manténgase al día con talleres, capacitaciones y educación continua.
• Hacer referencias a otras organizaciones de la comunidad cuando sea necesario. El intercambio de información con otros en nuestra comunidad ayuda a apoyar a las familias.

Parent Services

S sometimes it seems that we spend most of our time and energy simply ab- sorbing and reacting to all the pressures, stimuli, and challenges life throws into our laps. A big part of raising any family is simply “keeping up”. Those who are parenting, educating, or otherwise supporting children with special needs know that being action-oriented is a particular challenge. Professionals in the field have enormous impact on our children’s lives and wellbeing. Simple actions can be powerfully rewarding for children, families, and colleagues.

Building Social Bridges

A s new parents, we figure out quickly that our social world is going to change with the arrival of our newborn. Having a child with special needs, however, can really throw us off our social game.

Picture this if you will: an elevator ride to the 12th floor of a major medical center. You’re running late, you’re thinking about the questions you need to ask the specialist you waited three months to see, and your baby is sporting her brand-new hip dysplasia ankle bar. A well-meaning elevator mate exclaims, “What the heck is that?” and really does expect you to respond in detail about the thing that’s holding your baby’s legs apart.

If your baby or toddler’s disability is visible to others, it can help to have strategies for handling these situations, such as what to do or say when well-meaning people offer advice or when the park regulars look at you with pity in their eyes.

If you are open to answering questions or engaging in polite conversation you may be able to:

- Raise awareness by explaining your child’s disability to strangers (especially if the disability is rare).
- Help the people in your life understand your child’s disability and the way it has changed your life.
- Give people information to help them cope by sharing literature, showing videos, and answering questions.

Having a child with a disability does change what we can do, when we can do it, and with whom we can do it. The sooner those changes can be embraced with grace and dignity, the easier your family’s social life will be.

Parent support groups and parents you meet at organized special needs play groups might become a social network you never expected, but one that will feed you and your family like no other.

Some times it takes more than one type of village. Be open to building social bridges whenever and wherever you can...maybe even during that elevator ride.

Matrix News

NEW DATA SPECIALIST AND TWO NEW BOARD MEMBERS

New Faces at Matrix

Coleman McDonough, Data Specialist
Coleman joins us as our new Data Specialist. He grew up in Novato and went to Sonoma State where he studied Psychology and Computer Science. Coleman has over 30 years experience in computer systems support.

Lilea Duran, New Board of Directors’ member
As the mother of two special needs children, Lilea was drawn to serve on the Matrix Board of Directors, seeing the chance to support families within Napa County and create more opportunities for children locally.

Rhonda DuCharme, New Board of Directors’ member
Rhonda, a mother of three, has been using the tools provided by Matrix to advocate for her son, who was diagnosed with Autism at age four. She hopes to bring special needs families together and give kids a sense of community and friendship with one another.

MESSAGE FROM OUR BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Making a Difference Through Working Together

We have been working with a remarkable young man, Erik N. Weber. Erik was diagnosed with autism at age two. He went on to graduate from law school, pass the California Bar Exam, and write two books. Erik enjoys running. His accomplishments include winning many Special Olympics medals. He is an amazing role model for our families. Like Matrix, Erik is committed to helping all persons with special needs to work towards reaching their full potential.

Erik helped us to raise funds at a speaking event in January for Matrix families. He is also providing support for our Matrix Milers running team to raise funds in the Santa Rosa Marathon this August. Yes, Erik will be running, too! He will also be visiting the Oak Hill School to connect with autistic children and their parents who can benefit from his experiences. We are grateful for Erik’s commitment and support. His amazing energy and enthusiasm helps us to help more special needs families.

We are looking for new organizations and/or individuals to build partnerships and work with us to benefit families in our communities. If you know of any we should connect with, please email me at denisea@matrixparents.org.

Thank you, Denise LaBuda, Board President

RECENT EVENTS

ERIK WEBER SPEAKING EVENT
On January 24th, we had the pleasure of welcoming Erik Weber and his mother Sandy for a speaking event at the Lark Theatre. They shared their journey with autism, an incredibly inspiring story of hope, persistence, and love.

Thank you to our sponsors – Sutter Health; t2lPS; Ready, Set, Go Therapy, Inc.; Law Office of Alexis Lynch; Santa Rosa Express Youth Running Club; Jump Start Learning to Learn and Autism Center of Northern California; and Novato Pediatric Dentistry.

We also thank everyone who came to hear the speakers, and most of all, thank you to Erik and Sandy!

HOPS AND HARMONIES
Hops and Harmonies, sponsored by Andy’s Produce Market, was a night to remember! It was a night filled with good people, amazing music, great beer, and delicious food!

There were about 200 people in attendance helping us raise $4000 for Matrix!

A special thank you to everyone who came out and supported us, and to our talented Matrix staff members (and their bands) who provided the wonderful music: Tony, with Vardas; Beth, with O Happy Dagger; and Emily, with Survival Guide.

Thank you to Lagunitas for providing us with this fundraising opportunity!
