We Are Here for You

Dear Families:

What a beautiful weekend we had here in the Bay Area! It was so nice to be outside in the warm sun! I hope you and your family are enjoying the outdoors and safely practicing social distancing.

As the weather continues to warm and we approach summer, please let us know if you have any favorite family activities! We'd love to share them with all of our families.

We hope you continue to find this weekly email useful and informative. As always, please never hesitate to reach out for support and information. We are here for you!

Wishing you and your family health and wellness,

Maria Daane, Executive Director

Raising Awareness of Invisible Disabilities

This video, created by a Bay Area high school student, raises awareness for students who may hide their challenges from their peers, making it harder for others to understand their challenges and/or to help them out. In light of COVID-19, the issue becomes even more relevant as students are further isolated and having to adapt to new forms of learning and managing mental health. #InvisiblePowers

PHP E-Learning Library

Providing critical information for families... anytime, anywhere.

This Week's E-Learning Spotlight: Coping and Support for Families

At PHP, we are dedicated to providing you support and resources for your entire self. This includes self care, mindfulness, and emotional/mental health support. We have curated a collection of videos that may be helpful for you in this time of uncertainty. If you have a favorite video you'd like us to include in our library, please email us!

The PHP E-Learning Library includes videos, podcasts, and e-packets on a variety of topics to help families caring for a loved one with special needs. We assembled them in one place to make it easier for you to find what you need, now. With the Parents Helping Parents E-Learning Library, you can gain knowledge of the complex educational, legal, social service, and medical systems of care for your loved one of any age, any ability.
