Why call Matrix? For information, support & services

“Matrix has helped me every step of the way with my son’s needs. Transition trainings are the most important along with support groups.

The help they (Matrix) provided in getting access to appropriate resources for our learning different daughter immeasurably improved her life skills, and the support for our family during the process is something we will never forget.”

I feel supported and confident to ask about any concerns. When the quarantine began, I felt very desperate because my child was no longer going to be referred to the early start program, but Ana Acosta gave me confidence and peace of mind.

It cannot go without saying that the reason that Matrix is such an amazing resource is the people working there, tirelessly, many of whom have their own children with special needs at home.”
